HOW TO DISPLAY THE FLAG

1. When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk, it should be hoisted out, union first, from the building.
2. The flag of the United States, when displayed with another flag against a wall from crossed staffs, should be on the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.
3. The flag, when flown at half staff, should be first hoisted to the peak for an instant and then lowered to half-staff position. The flag should be again raised to the peak before it is lowered for the day.
4. When flags of states, cities, or localities, or pennants of societies, are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak. When the flags are flown from adjacent staffs, the flag of the United States should be hoisted first and lowered last. No such flag or pennant may be placed above or to the right of the flag of the United States.
5. When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, it should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.
6. When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the windowsill, balcony, or front of a building, the union should be placed at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half staff.
7. When the flag is used to cover a casket, it should be so placed that the union is at the head and over the left shoulder. The flag should not be lowered into the grave or allowed to touch the ground.
8. When the flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right. When displayed in a window it should be displayed in the same way, with the union to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes, or drapings are desired, bunting of blue, white, and red should be used, but never the flag.
9. The flag, when carried in a procession with another flag or flags, should be either on the marching right—the flag's own right—or, if there is a line of other flags, in front of the center of that line.
10. The flag of the United States should be at the center and highest point of the group when a number of flags of states or localities or pennants of societies are grouped and displayed from staffs.
11. When flags of two or more nations are displayed, they are to be flown from separate staffs of the same height. The flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.
